

Move from a minimum wage job...

To a CAREER in road construction!

TrANS seeks women and minority men to participate in this industry awareness program

TrANS is a collaborative project funded primarily by the Wisconsin Department of Transportation. TrANS partners share the mission of empowering and leading people into profitable careers that will help diversify Wisconsin's construction workforce.

Construction has career paths that offer:

- Feeling of pride and accomplishment
- Health and insurance benefits
- Good pay

Minimum wage jobs pay $5.15/hr.

Road construction job average $15/hr.
(wages range from $12-25/hr.)

TrANS is a 120-hour industry awareness program introducing participants to the road construction industry. Graduates are directly referred to job interviews with construction employers. Program requirements are: Minimum 18 years of age · Reliable transportation · Valid Driver's License. The partners in this project are Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity institutions and comply with the requirements of the American Disabilities Act.
